The New York Times

August 14, 2017

"...if Mr. Norcross has his way, maybe a few more working class candidates will appear on the ballot."

I Was a Single Dad on Minimum Wage.
Impossible with Today's Wages.

The Star-Ledger

July 23, 2017

Opinion Editorial

"I've worked for minimum wage. I was also once a young single dad raising my son and having to balance work, family life and a checkbook. Back then it was hard. Today, for far too many Americans, it's nearly impossible."

Norcross to Co-Chair Rebuilding
America Task Force

INSIDER NJ

September 13, 2017

"Working families in New Jersey and across the country are struggling to make ends meet – and Democrats are fighting to raise wages, improve our aging infrastructure and focus on the jobs of the future."

Tell Congress it's Time to Raise Minimum Wage

The Philadelphia Inquirer

August 2, 2017

Editorial

"It's up to workers, the same people whose voices fueled the public outcry over health-care cuts, to call their state and federal legislators and tell them it's time for a raise."

Why I Fight For $15

COURIER-POST

January 17, 2016

Opinion Editorial

"Back in the 1960s, CEOs of large corporations were making 20 times the average worker. Now it's more than 300 times what today's workers are making. That trend needs to stop, and it starts by raising wages."

When They Go Low, We Go Higher Wages

The Record

September 9, 2017

Opinion Editorial

"America's families are experiencing a long-term decline in their economic security. It's a real national crisis and we need to make it our business to fix it."

How Organized Labor can have a Future
in 21st Century America

The Star-Ledger

September 5, 2017

"Democratic lawmakers are leading an effort to redefine labor for the 21st century. 'Our goal is make sure the next generation of worker has a fair playing field to earn enough to take care of a family and retire with dignity.'"

Link Minimum Wage to Must-Pass
Priorities like Debt Limit or Tax Cuts

The Record

July 17, 2017

"Norcross [said] it was wrong that Republicans were talking tax cuts for '1 percenters' while the federal minimum wage — $7.25 an hour since 2009 — no longer covers basic living expenses."
